

What is Employer Link?

Employer Link is a network to connect human resources and finance directors with expert employment guidance. Dedicated to understanding terms and conditions and employment law, Employer Link keeps you informed of changes and developments to give you clear, practical advice on how they impact on your HR practices and the people in your organisation.

Who should join Employer Link?

Have you ever asked...

“How do I know how much to pay my staff?”

“What impact do changes to pension policy have for my organisation?”

“How do I know I’m not in breach of contract that could result in a costly employment tribunal?”

Employer Link is for HR and finance professionals who:

- use the terms and conditions in the Green Book
- use the terms and conditions in the Burgundy Book
- work at academy trusts, independent schools, charities, housing associations, arm’s length management organisations (ALMOs), social enterprises, or private sector organisations working in the public sector.

What does Employer Link give you?

Access to all the employment resources you need in one place, including guidance on national agreements like the Green Book and Burgundy Book.

Access to direct advice via telephone and email. We have unrivalled knowledge of the national agreements and free guidance on changes linked to developments in legislation.

Updates to pay and conditions of service including online access to all of the nationally agreed conditions of service handbooks that apply to organisations such as maintained schools, as well as for organisations that TUPE staff in on these terms.

Information on employment issues that we are dealing with at a national level and provision of the necessary guidance, including in relation to changes to the School Teachers' Pay and Conditions Document (STPCD) and sector specific guidance on topics such as the Modification Order, the Teachers' Pension Scheme and managing industrial action.

Shared learning from best practice across the sector and a network of similar organisations facing the same challenges as yours.

Priority access to seminars and events in employment policy and legislation which are designed with your needs in mind.

Tailored updates for your sector or areas of interest, including employment relations, local government, education and young people, fire and rescue, police and coroners.

Why subscribe to Employer Link?

Our comprehensive service includes online resources and direct advice from our teams of industrial relations specialists, who have unrivalled knowledge in the field.

You will benefit from early warning on key issues that will affect your organisation and be safe in the knowledge that you are minimising the risk of breaching your responsibilities as an employer.

Last year we helped our clients with issues like:

- negotiations on pay awards
- ensuring the national pay structure can meet the challenge of a National Living Wage of more than £9 per hour in 2020
- new employment legislation and interpretation of case law – with the implications for employment policies.
